

Detailed information on product activation can be found in the LINGUATEC Personal Translator 2008 manual, chapter 1.4.

For unrestricted use of the software, Personal Translator must be activated no later than 30 days after installation.

The product activation automatically appears each time the program is started (e.g. via Start – Programs – LINGUATEC – Personal Translator 2008 or via the “Personal Translator 2008” icon on the desktop) until you have activated Personal Translator 2008.

Within a period of 30 days after installation, you can work with Personal Translator PT2008 without activation if you select the option “Activate later” in the activation dialog.

You need to be logged on as an administrator to be able to select the “Activate later” function (under Windows Vista, right click the PT icon on the desktop and select “Run as administrator”).

Here is a graphical introduction:

If Personal Translator 2008 has not been activated, the following window will appear within 30 days after the installation when the program is started.

Select "Activate later" if you wish to use Personal Translator 2008 without activation, i.e. if you would prefer to activate later. In this step, the product activation window will close and LINGUATEC Personal Translator PT2008 will be loaded.

Upon elapse of 30 days without activation, PT2008 will no longer work.

In this case, activation must be carried out before the software will be enabled.