

Detailed information on product activation can be found in the LINGUATEC Personal Translator 2008 manual, chapter 1.4.

There are two activation methods available:

Instant activation: If the PC on which Personal Translator is installed has Internet access, product activation can be completed online in just a few moments. In this case, select the option “Instant activation”.

Manual activation: If instant activation is not possible (e.g. because the PC that will be used for Personal Translator does not have Internet access), you can go online with another PC to obtain your activation code from the LINGUATEC activation website, and then copy this code manually to your PC.

For unrestricted use of the software, Personal Translator must be activated no later than 30 days after installation.

You will automatically be prompted to activate the product each time the program starts (e.g. via Start – Programs – LINGUATEC – Personal Translator 2008 or via the “Personal Translator 2008” icon on the desktop) until Personal Translator 2008 has been activated.

You need to have administrator rights to carry out the activation (under Windows Vista, right click the PT icon on the desktop and select “Run as administrator”).

The following images illustrate the steps to be taken in the manual activation process:

If Personal Translator 2008 has not been activated, when the program is started the following window will appear within the 30-day period after installation:

Click "Activate now" to begin activation.

Entry of license key

The 25-character license key can be found on the CD or the CD cover of your Personal Translator. When you purchase the product online the license key will usually either be displayed immediately in the browser with the order confirmation information or will be sent to you via email. If you still haven't received your license key, please contact the online store operator.

Please enter the license key for the appropriate product, complete all fields, then click 'Continue'.

Note: Please make sure that your customer information is entered here correctly if you would like your software to be activated correctly, and if you would like to receive customer support services and upgrade offers in the future.

Please inform me regularly concerning updates and new Linguattec products.

Please enter your 29-digit license key into the appropriate field in the line provided for your installed Personal Translator 2008 version (see pink marking above)

Important information on license key:

You will find your PT2008 license key on the CD ROM case or on the disc itself. If you bought the product online, the license key should have been sent to you by the store.

The license key is made up of a total of 29 capital letters, figures and dividers.

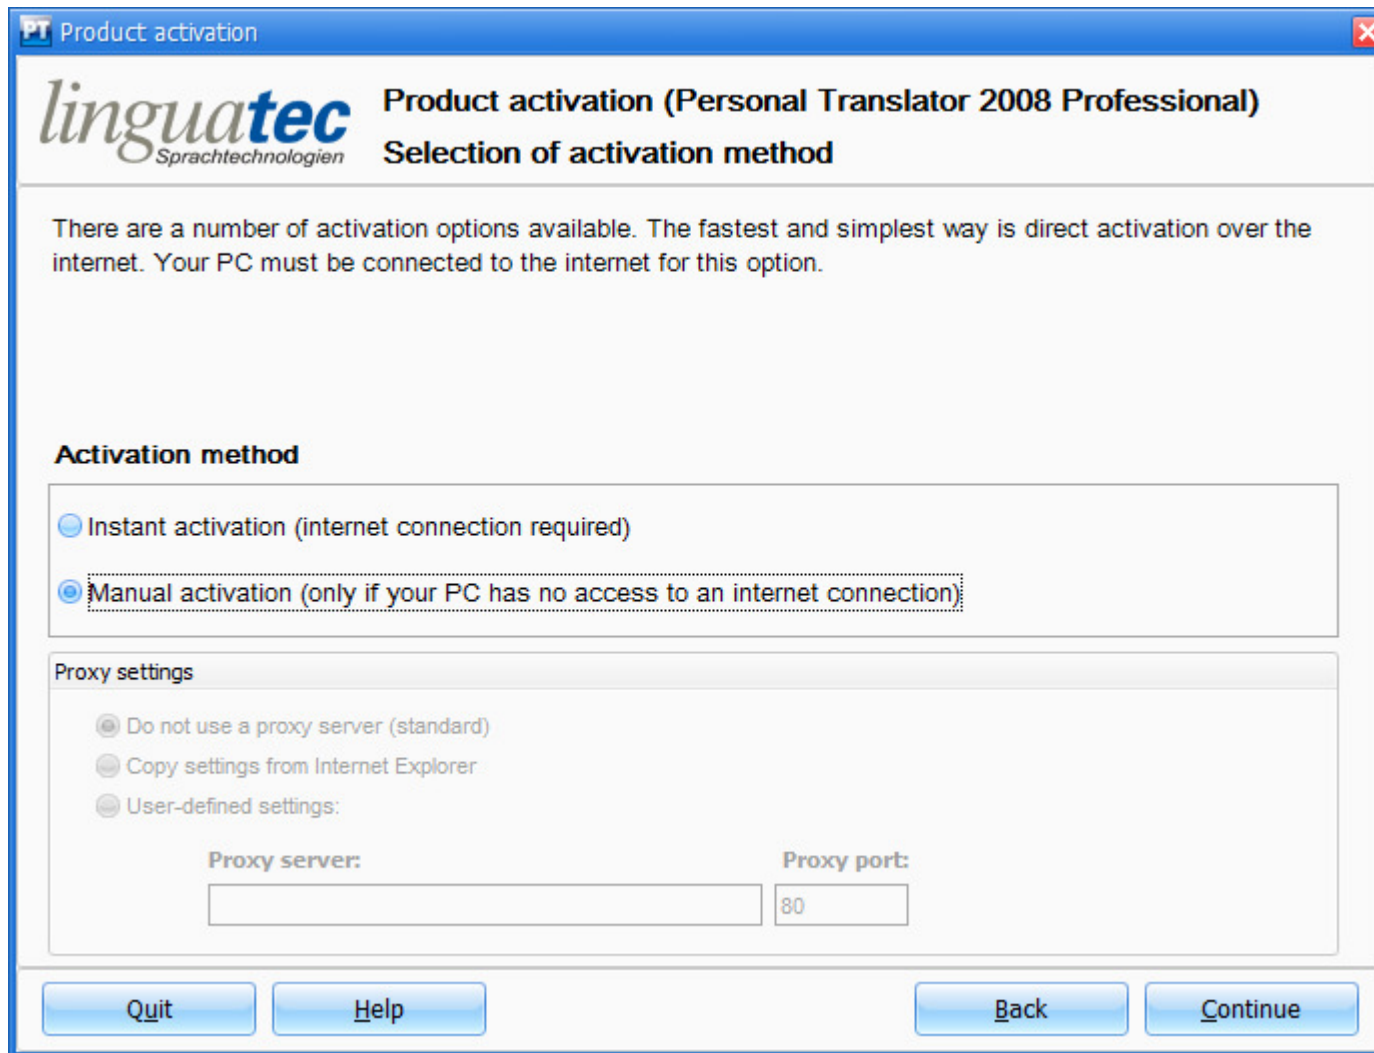

NOTE: in order to avoid confusion, the following letters are not used in the license key: O (as in Oliver), I (as in Ian) and G (as in George). These figures are used in their place: 0 (figure zero), 1 (figure one) and 6 (figure six).

The license key is split into five blocks of five figures/letters, with dividers appearing between them. The dividers form part of the key and must be entered.

Carefully fill in the fields in the lower section of the product activation window with your customer data (title, first name, second name, email address, country).

Then click "Continue".

A product activation window will open, which allows you to choose an activation method:

Select the option "Manual activation" and then click "Continue".

A product activation window will open for the manual activation.

In the line provided for your installed PT2008 version in the “Hardware code(s)” column, the hardware code for your PC has already been entered (see pink marking).

In the line “1. Product”, select the PT2008 version to be installed and activated by clicking on the arrow pointing downwards on the right-hand side of the “Please select...” field to display the drop-down list.

The image shows a dropdown menu for product selection. The label "1. Product" is on the left. The dropdown list contains the following items: "Personal Translator 2008 Professional German-English" (selected), "Personal Translator 2008 Professional English-Chinese", "Personal Translator 2008 Professional English-French", "Personal Translator 2008 Professional English-Italian", "Personal Translator 2008 Professional English-Portuguese", "Personal Translator 2008 Professional English-Spanish", "Personal Translator 2008 Professional German-English", "Personal Translator 2008 Professional German-French", and "Please select...".

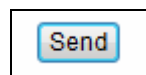

Select the PT2008 version to be activated, e.g.

The image shows a form for product activation. It includes a dropdown menu for "1. Product" with "Personal Translator 2008 Professional German-English" selected. Below it are two text input fields: "License key:" and "Hardware code:". At the bottom, there is a dropdown menu for "2. Product" with "Please select..." selected.

Then, in the fields “License key” and “Hardware code”, enter the numbers above (see activation form) and carefully fill in the field marked “Customer”.

Check the information you entered again before clicking “Send” (at the bottom of the site).

A rectangular button with a blue border and the text "Send" inside.

Your activation code will now be generated.

It will be given to you in a new window:

Thank you for activating your product

To activate Personal Translator on your PC, you require the activation code given here. Please print this page out, or note the code with a pen.

Return to the Product activation: manual activation dialog box on your PC. If you have already closed it, you will need to relaunch Personal Translator to start the product activation process again. Follow the manual activation steps until you reach the Product activation: manual activation dialog box. Enter the activation code in the Activation code field, and click Continue, to complete the activation process.

Note: For a more detailed description of the activation process, please consult the manual or online help facility.

Important information on product activation (see also manual, chapter 1.4)

Product activation is bound to the PC on which Personal Translator is installed by means of a hardware code. Thus the Personal Translator activation code you receive from Linguattec can only be used on the PC on which you perform the product activation and generate the hardware code. After every new installation, the program has to be activated again.

- Product activation will be necessary when you add an additional language pair to your Personal Translator.
