Innovative Language Technology

A dedicated research team of computer linguists, language experts and neural computer scientists are working hard to make Linguatec's vision come true: innovative language technology solutions which enable people throughout the world to increase their productivity and communication.

Speech recognition (speech-to-text) turns the spoken word into written text, voice output (text-to-speech) turns the written text into spoken word, and automatic translation transfers text from one language to another.

Thanks to continuous development on a high innovative level, Linguatec maintains its position as a leading provider of language technology software.

Apps of Linguatec are very popular in the App Store. They read texts on iPhone or iPad and offer dictionaries to look up in several languages.
